HIS UNCONQUERABLE SOUL.

Everywhere.
When John Quincy Adams was 80 years of age he met in the streets of Boston an old friend, who shook his trembling hand and said: "Good morning, and how is John Quincy Adams to-day?"
"Thank you," was the ex-President's answer "John Quincy Adams himself is well, sir; quite well, I thank you. But the house in which he lives at present is becoming dilapidated. It is tottering upon its foundation. Time and the seasons have nearly destroyed it. Its roof is pretty well worn out. Its walls are much shattered, and it trembles with every wind. The old tenement is becoming almost uninhabitable, and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move out of it soon. But he himself is quite well, sir; quite well."

with that the venerable sixth President of the United States moved on with the aid of his staff.

TELEPHONE CHURCHES.

Certain churches in Southern Indiana have recently put a Bellamy idea into execution by establishing a telephone connection with the homes of many subscribers, and especially with hospitals and the homes of invalid members, by means of which the sermons of their pastors were heard without the necessity of church attendance. At first sight, perhaps, this seems enterprising and likely to result in good, but its ultimate results are not reassuring. A congregation held together by no stronger ties than a telephone connection is not calculated to exercise any great influence for faith's sake nor to attain permanency as an organization.

The Boss Worm Medicine.

H. P. Kump, Druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food up could retain nothing on stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world. White's Cream Vermifuge is also the child's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of natural childhood. 25c at L. P. & W. S. Ellison.

THE PROHIBITION.

An active campaign is to be waged by the Prohibitionists of Kentucky. At a meeting held at Lexington recently "The Interdenominational Local Option Committee" was organized. Its purpose is the agitation, education, legislation and the enforcement of law in regard to the liquor traffic. County committees are to be organized with a member in each magisterial district. It is the intention to shortly hold a great mass convention on temperance in Louisville.

NO DICTIONS FOR DEMOCRACY.

(Mayfield Mirror)
Since the democratic party was organized over a hundred years ago no man has been big enough to lay down the law as to who should be called democrats and who should be nominated for office.
Unless the organizers and disorganizers learn more respect for the party and less for their own vanity, their experience as political advisors may end before 1904 in complete loss of influence in democratic councils.

Won't Follow Advice After Paying For It.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patient to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, namely, the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by Cowgill & Cowgill.

THIS TURKEY BEAT THE RECORD.

Mrs. Ben J. Hedge, of the county, has a turkey hen that has laid seventy-eight eggs this season, and is still laying. She has had thirty-seven turkeys hatched from the same, has nineteen eggs setting and four eggs on hand. No mistake about this, as Mrs. Hedge has but the one turkey hen, and it is still laying every day. — Georgetown News.

AWFUL DEED.

Madisonville, Ky., July 22.—News reached this city last night of a horrible tragedy enacted late yesterday afternoon at Depoy, about seven miles from this city. Mrs. Ellen Tarkey, with a pistol, shot and killed her four-year-old child, first at his two older children, and, failing to shoot them, turned the weapon upon herself and fired a bullet through her brain.
In closing he said he stood ready to forget and forgive every difference with every man and his friends with every man in Kentucky. In closing he said this silver service should be a legacy to his children.
His touching peroration was greeted with renewed applause.

EMBARRASSING PREDICAMENT.

We recently heard of a man who attended a grand ball with his wife and had a grand time. While dancing a quadrille he noticed that his pants were ripping and hurriedly retired to a room with his wife, who procured a needle and thread and began sewing up the rip. While the man was sitting there without any pants on he heard the rustling of skirts and it occurred to him that he had taken refuge in the ladies' dressing room. He appealed to his wife, and she shoved him to a door which opened, as she thought, into a closet. Opening the door quickly, she shoved him through and locked the door. "Mary!" he screamed. "I'm in the ballroom!" The door, instead of opening into the closet, opened into the ballroom. — Danville News.

SENATOR VEST ON DEMOCRACY.

SAYS A MAN MAY BE A GOOD DEMOCRAT WITHOUT INDORSING THE SILVER PLANK.

Senator Vest expressed his opinion today very decidedly that a man may be a good democrat without indorsing the declaration in the Kansas City platform for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. His connection with the party, running through half a century, his long and distinguished career in the Senate, where he has been a leading exponent of Democratic principles, makes the expression of Senator Vest very important and interesting at this time.

The Senator said to the Republic correspondent:

"I have no objection to stating that, while I am a bimetalist, sincerely and truly, and believe that silver is money of ultimate redemption, I do not think that this is the time to make the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 a paramount issue. I believe that a man can be a good Democrat without indorsing the declaration in the Kansas City platform for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 without the consent of foreign countries."

"I will further state that I think Mr. Bryan's declaration, made in his paper and in his speeches at Chillicothe, and at other places in Missouri, that no man should be sent as a delegate to any country, State or national convention who does not indorse the Kansas City platform in its entirety is a very great mistake. If this is to be the test of Democracy in Missouri, men will be read out of the party who, like myself, have voted the ticket for fifty years, but who now believe that circumstances have made the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 an impolitic declaration."

NEGRO DINNER A SUCCESS.

Memphis News.
The Booker Washington dinner has made Roosevelt so solid with the negroes of the South that no other Republican stands any chance of getting their delegations for the presidential nomination of his party. Even with his unlimited barrel, Hanna is afraid to buck against this sentiment of Washington's race, and this is one reason why Roosevelt is to have a clear road to the nomination. Of course the incident did not hurt the bronco buster with the Republicans of the North; therefore, the dinner with the negro was the shrewdest piece of politics that Roosevelt could have played. It looks as though he would be nominated by his party without opposition.

NOTICE.

I hereby notify all persons having claims against the estate of the late R. D. Watson to present them before the 2nd Monday in August 1902 or they will be forever after barred by law.

WHAT IS A GENTLEMAN?

The following extracts are taken from the advertisement of a German publisher: "A gentleman does not use can de cologne and read greasy volumes from a circulating library. A gentleman does not borrow good works when he is in a position to buy. A gentleman does not talk about the latest literature when he is acquainted only with what is said of it by the reviewers. A gentleman does not cut books with his fingers, even after having washed his hands. A gentleman does not buy only sixpenny cheap editions." These are interesting additions to the many definitions of a much-abused word.
